Would Mean New Attempt to Dismember Turkey, Lausanne Meet Told.

(By Associated Press.)

Lausanne, Turkey, Dec. 12.—Turkey refused to accept the plan of the Near East conference to assign a special part of Turkey as a national home for the Armenians. Ismet Pasha declared this would mean a new attempt to dismember Turkey.

The Ankara delegates to the near east conference are vigorously combating the plan of the powers to write the question of minorities into the treaty which, it is hoped, will be drawn up here.

Ismet Pasha and his associates, fearful that international regulations will be imposed upon Turkey which will oblige her to protect foreign nationals living within her borders, believe that such conditions would be an infringement on Turkish sovereignty and a slight to her honor.

Ismet Pasha was irreconcilable on other points concerning the treatment of minorities in Turkey. Besides declaring Turkey would not set aside an inch of Turkish soil for an Armenian national home, he said the world not accept the regulation of rights of minorities by an international commission in Constantinople or elsewhere.

No World Sympathy.

Lord Curzon warned Ismet Pasha that there would be no sympathy anywhere in the world for Turkey if the conference broke down on the question of the treatment of minorities.

After a long and unsatisfactory discussion, the entire question of minorities was referred to a sub-committee.

In his declaration regarding the Armenians, Ismet said there were a bit of territory in Turkey proper to its people or in Cilicia, which did not contain a Turkish majority, and no territory which could be detached in any way from the fatherland for the Armenians.

"Their Own Fault"

Ismet declared that if the Greeks and Armenians were unhappy, it was because they had put themselves in the position of aggressors and that this attitude has received support from other countries.

Griffen Pleads

Not Guilty to

Ticket Scalping

Pleading not guilty to a charge of ticket scalping, which was arraigned before Judge Claude Z. Luse, in federal court in Madison, Tuesday afternoon, Russell Griffen, Janesville, had his case continued. Joseph H. Johnston, Janesville, appeared as Griffen's attorney.

Meyer Bernstein and Leo Dargatz were each fined $25 and costs by Judge Luse when they pleaded guilty to ticket scalping. After investigation, the case against Forest Ang, Milwaukee, was dismissed.

The youths were arrested the day of the Wisconsin-Illinois football game at Madison, Nov. 11.

Illinois Rejects

New Constitution

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago.—Illinois voters rejected the proposed new constitution Tuesday, probably by a majority of 750,000. Indications are it was a 2 to 1 defeat in the entire state.

The constitution proposed constitution almost 20 to 1.

Woman Charged With Plotting Death of Her Farmer Husband

Mrs. May Blinn Ford and Detective Lieutenant Kunath of Detroit, who she is alleged to have hired to kill her husband.

Mental irresponsibility and loss of memory will be the defense of Mrs. May Blinn Ford, charged with plotting the death of her husband, May J. Ford, Dearborn, Mich., farmer. The woman was arrested by Detective Lieutenant Kunath of Detroit, after she is alleged to have hired him to do away with her husband. Mrs. Ford says that she has been driven frantic by her husband who, she charges, tricked her into marriage by telling her that he was a relative of the famous Henry and putting forth visions of great wealth and generosity. She now says it would take a generalist to connect her husband with the famous Ford family. She charges her husband's cruelty is responsible for her present mental condition.

Better Americanization Plan Urged by Speaker at Twilight Club Meet

Whether America's future industry and farming depends on opening the entry ports to immigrants was discussed at the meeting of the Twilight club in the Janesville Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night. The speaker, J. A. Griffin, urged a better Americanization plan, and education, of teaching American laws, customs and standards of living was brought out by Abraham Berger, Chicago, an authority on immigration problems.

"I am opposed to bringing in of another alien until we have better Americanization methods," declared the speaker. "We are all dissatisfied with the manner of receiving immigrants in this country. Naturally the alien drift to cities, cluster together in a district, where they are the victims of crime, vice, propaganda and rotten politics. Before we can really cope with the flood of immigrants that may come, we must complete our system of Americanization. Every immigrant should be compelled to keep a passport, to spend a certain period in schools for an education on English, to study the history of our government and its laws. This education should be given to the alien before he is permitted to enter the country. The Americanization court when the applicant appears for citizenship papers.

"The immigrant who fails to take out citizenship papers within a required and reasonable time, who refuses to meet with reasonable American standards, or who is too ignorant to learn our methods, should be deported," declared Mr. Griffin.

"It is no wonder we have radicals among our alien population. The alien propaganda they hear and read is of the radical type, vicious publicity that is flooded in the districts of our cities where newcomers are gathered. There you find a soap-box orator and carbonated radical preaching bolshevism when the immigrant comes to America with high ideals, anxious to adopt our ways in most cases, but is led astray because little or nothing is done to steer him right. An ounce of preventive in the way of education is worth a pound of cure in Americanization work.

"The indifference of industry and farmers to watching the present and future labor supply is thrusting the United States into a serious immigration problem."

City Workers Get

Out Tax Notices

Having completed the making out of 6,500 real estate tax bills for distribution the latter part of December, City Treasurer W. J. Lennart and his assistants are now preparing the bills for personal property and income taxes. In all there will be more than 19,000 notices to be mailed under the system used last year for the first time and which proved so successful. So far Mr. Lennart has not found it necessary to take on extra help and believes he can finish the work without it. He is being aided by the city clerk and city assessor and two regular women employees.

80 WRITERS SEND MILLION WORDS ON HALL-MILLS MURDER

New Brunswick, N. J.—Newspapers are estimated to have spent more than $100,000 in maintaining about 80 reporters and feature writers investigating the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills. Telegraph offices in this city estimate the total number of words of the murder story sent over the wires at more than a million. One correspondent alone sent more than 35,000 words.

SEYLER CONTRACTS AGAIN UNDER QUIZ

Head of Investment Company Still Under Fire in Madison Hearing.

(By Associated Press.)

Madison.—Investigation of contracts for the sale of property by the M. T. C. and Ellswood Oil companies, controlled by the Seyler family, continued in the hearing Wednesday before the railroad commission on the complaint against the Seyler concern.

William Seyler, president of the company, again was under the questioning of details of the transactions which led to the sale of Seyler company holdings to the Royal Gas company, under contracts which some witnesses said were not validly executed.

Seyler declared the sale of the property, valued at approximately $150,000, was bona fide and above suspicion. Internal dissension within the board of directors over an offer of the company's accounts and over the contract with the Royal Gas company were outlined by the witness.

A. F. L. TAKES HAND IN MOVE AGAINST ATTORNEY GENERAL

WILL EMPLOY COUNSEL TO AID IMPEACHMENT ACTION.

GOMPERS QUIZZED

Labor Leader Tells House Committee of Visit to Daugherty in 1921.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, frankly told the House judiciary committee Wednesday that the executive committee of the federation had authorized the employment of counsel to assist Representative Keller, republican, Minnesota, in prosecuting impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty.

Mr. Gompers' statement was made in the course of cross examination by Paul Howard of Cleveland, personal counsel for Mr. Daugherty. He emphatically denied he had first suggested the impeachment proceedings, declaring he had not known of the introduction of the bill until it was in the house.

Mr. Gompers told of his visit to Mr. Daugherty in July, 1921, at the latter's invitation, at which the appointment of W. J. Burns as chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice was discussed.

The witness said he had shown Mr. Daugherty a copy of the report made in 1912 by Attorney General Wickersham to President Taft on the alleged activities in the drawing of a jury in the Oregon land fraud cases in 1905 (corrected) and that Mr. Daugherty had compared it with one brought to him by a departmental clerk.

Protests Burns' Selection. Mr. Gompers testified that it would be a public scandal and bring discredit to the department and the government if any such man was appointed to so important a position as was proposed for Burns and that as a man and a citizen he protested against the selection.

The labor leader denied that he had suggested to President Harding that Mr. Daugherty ought not to be appointed attorney general.

Baker Back from Visit in Germany

Otto Baker, for several months employed by Rely's Brothers, bank, returned to this city Tuesday night after spending 10 months in Stuttgart, Germany, the home of his mother. Mr. Baker left this city last February and sailed from New York City on the Hamburg.

He returned on the "American" sailing from Bremen and arrived in New York City last Saturday.

HITTING 50-MILE. PACE COSTS HIM $25

Hitting a 50-mile clip, on North bluff street late Monday afternoon, cost Andrew Schoof, chauffeur, $25 and costs in municipal court, here, Wednesday morning.

C. J. Stavenberg, Oshkosh, charged with reckless driving on the Oshkosh road, pleaded not guilty and the case was continued Saturday. He is alleged to have been racing in his car going into a ditch.

Both arrests were made by Constable Morton Miller, county highway patrolman.

DRIVEN LOCOMOTIVE FOR 45 YEARS

Washington.—A request that President Harding seek to broaden the scope of the naval limitation agreement to include a limitation on construction of smaller types of war vessels and on military naval aircraft, is included in the annual naval bill as reported Wednesday by the house appropriations committee.

Under the bill, as brought into the house, the navy would be asked to open negotiations with Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan for an agreement which would limit future building of all surface and submerged types of war vessels having a tonnage of 1,000 or less, on all classes of army and navy aircraft.

Other Craft Numerous. The committee pointed out that the arms conference did not limit smaller types of aircraft, and that large programs are planned of vessels up to the maximum size permitted under the agreement and that new and larger types of sub-surface craft have begun to put in an appearance.

In other words, the report continued, "competition is on again in the single direction to which the agreement does not extend, and if it be allowed to go on unchecked, the purse strings again must be relaxed and this government, like all others, will be constrained to launch on a new program."

False Alarm Is Rung in From No. 3 Station

Spring Brock firemen have sworn vengeance on the person who opened the window at Spring Brock fire station at 11:30 Tuesday night and sounded a false alarm from box 61, calling out the entire department. The station box was pulled, with four firemen sleeping on the floor above, and the practically fevered Spring Brock firemen say they have strong suspicions who he is.

The midnight alarm was the sixth of Tuesday.

Ten dollars' loss was caused by a roof fire at the home of Harry Austin, 217 South Main street, Wednesday afternoon.

A chimney fire in the American Express company building on North Franklin street at 6 p. m., Tuesday, did no damage. Another call was at 9:30 Tuesday night to the home of L. R. Burdick, 303 South High street, where a register was blown off.

Flooded River on Way to Normalcy; Damage $75,000

(By Associated Press.)

Iron River, Wis.—Iron river, flooded Tuesday when the Mud Lake power dam just south of this city gave way, releasing a wall of water 20 feet high, was returning to its banks Wednesday, permitting a check of the actual damage caused to power plants, railroad and highway bridges and settlers' property.

Several families of settlers living in the flooded lowlands were able to reach safety after warning had been given by townspeople who dispatched runners on skis and, according to reports, there was no loss of life. The damage is estimated at more than $75,000.

Families Go to Hills. The dam gave way early in the morning, but the crest of the flood did not reach the lowlands of the winding stream until about mid-afternoon. It was feared here that the settlers whose houses are not built on the customary pile foundations took their families to the highlands, later returning for their livestock before the overflow came.

Two families—those of John Maki and a man named Brandon—at first unaccounted for, are reported safe at the home of neighbors in the highlands.

Much suffering has been caused to livestock because of the severe cold. Winter supplies of stock feed are reported to have been lost when the waters swept away hay stacks and farm buildings.

Bridges Swept Away. Communication was disrupted when the flood carried away many small bridges built by the settlers. The crest of the flood reached the concrete highway bridge 16 miles north of Iron River at 3 p. m., sweeping over the structure and tearing away the approaches. The main section remained intact, however, and is expected to be repaired within a few days.

R. E. Duck and his family, who live on a farm near the city, were among those warned in time to reach highlands before the water flooded the bottom lands.

Cattle Are Swamped. Cattle in the barns stood several feet deep in water, but none was washed away. The Henry Dahl farm, where hay stacks were carried away by the flood, but farm buildings were virtually unharmed. The Dahl family stayed in the home which is built on a rise.

The main dam of the Iron River Water, Light and Power company was found just below the plant. A new power wheel at the Upper Feed saw mill was knocked up and a plug in the stream. The engine room was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

ALIBI FOR HERRIN MURDER SUSPECTS, PLAN OF DEFENSE

MINE RIOT TRIAL OPENS IN MARION, ILL., COURT

INVASION, CHARGE

Williamson County "Rose to Defense of Homes," Says Miners' Attorney.

(By Associated Press.)

Marion, Ill.—Testimony to show five men charged with murder in connection with the Herrin mine killings, had no part in the rioting but were elsewhere at the time of the killings, was promised by A. W. Kerr, chief counsel for the Illinois Mine Workers, in his opening statement to the jury in the first mine riot trial here Wednesday. The five men are charged with the death of Edward Hoffman, one of the 20 non-union men killed in the outbreak.

Mr. Kerr declared the killing of the non-union men was the result of an "armed invasion" of Williamson county and "armed guards" and the "many acts of brutality" culminating in the ruthless murder of three union coal miners.

He asserted Williamson county "rose to the defense of its homes" adding that "by this act of self defense it served notice on the American gunmen, on those who would employ the American gunmen that this was not a safe community in which to send hired murderers."

Says Agreement Broken. Mr. Kerr described operations at the Lester strip mine, owned by the Southern Illinois Coal company, and said the union had agreed to permit the company to strip coal, but not to mine it. He declared the company broke the agreement and imported guards armed "with machine guns, high powered rifles, automatic pistols and all the most destructive weapons known to modern science."

He then gave an outline of 23 labor disputes in which he declared "hired gunmen" were used, beginning with the Homestead strike in 1892 and continuing through the Cripple Creek, Ludlow, Mingo, the Michigan

Push Search for Aviators

Phoenix, Ariz.—Search for Col. F. C. Marshall and Lieut. C. L. Weber, lost aviators, today assumed the proportions of a long campaign involving a methodical combing of the desert and mountain country of southern Arizona, and northern Mexico by land and air forces operating from established bases.

During the last five days the search for the aviators who disappeared last Thursday en route from San Diego, California to Tucson, Ariz., has been spasmodic in nature with speed as its ruling motive.

A report that the aviators had been found proved untrue. Three of the searching airplanes have reached El Paso and two others left on the way from San Antonio, Tex.

school hall. All members are urged to attend.

Club Has Christmas Party.—A club

of eight young women enjoyed a

Christmas party Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. W. C. McQuade,

122 South Academy street. Bridge

was played and prizes taken by Miss

Stella Cullen and Miss Mary Daley.

Christmas decorations were used in the home and the table where a two-course lunch was served. The guests exchanged Christmas gifts.

Travellers Move to Boston.—Mr.

and Mrs. C. H. Traver, 266 Sherman

avenue, are moving to Boston, Mass.

tertain the club after the holidays.

Costume Recital Friday.—Miss

Jean Knowlton, Chicago, is to give a

notably interesting and unusual song

recital Friday night at Library hall

under the auspices of the Mac Dow-ell club. Although this is to be a costume recital, Miss Knowlton's

voice, a true soprano, needs no externals to attract the audience.

A varied program has been arranged by the singer, a group of which will be old English Christmas

songs. Miss Knowlton, formerly

French and English pastorals of the eighteenth century. Her group of Spanish songs are always popular.

Such numbers as "Seguidilla" de

Pallo in which the singer appears

in a rare old manner or show is most artistic.

Chicago Needs
Outside Aid for Americanization.

One-third of the population of Chicago is foreign born and another

third are children of foreign born

parents, according to Mrs. Florence Hyde, who gave a lecture at the Presbyterian church, Tuesday night,

in connection with the presentation

of four reels of motion pictures

showing the Americanization work

of Olivet Institute on the lower north side of the city. Chicago people of the better class give liberally of time and money to help Americanization

enterprises, she said, but the task is too big for them to carry successfully without outside aid.

"Olivet Institute and similar institutions have demonstrated that the

foreign born people huddled together

in the congested sections of Chicago,

respond readily to opportunities for the self-improvement," said Mrs.

Hyde "and the results are limited

only by the facilities and workers

available. From my personal observance of the work done by Olivet

Institute, I am convinced that the results that are forthcoming from well

organized Christian Americanization

work are greater in proportion to the money and effort expended.

Now in the case of almost any other

missionary enterprise received support

from churches."

The lecture was given under the auspices of the D. N. E. club whose members have been interested in the work of Olivet Institute for some years. Because the attendance was small, the club may arrange to have the lecture repeated after the holidays.

Weak Arches?

When you step in your stockinged

foot, does the whole inner side of your foot touch the floor? We hope not, for that would indicate a fallen

or weak arch. Between the ball of the foot and the heel, the arch

should curve up on the inner side

of the foot, and not touch the floor.

To strengthen the arch muscles

and keep the foot healthy and comfortable, wear the Cantilevers.

For the shank is flexible, it bends

WITH the foot. It encourages the muscles to exercise. Cantilevers correct and prevent flat foot by strengthening the muscles that surround the bones of the arch.

The natural inner sole line provides room for the toes in Can-tilevers. This and the set of the heel encourage correct posture. The under-arch sole hugs the foot, when

the shoe is laced, and supports the

instep restfully and healthily.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR "THE MESSIAH"

Attendance to be Limited to 900 Instead of 1,000 as Last Year.

Sale of single tickets for the presentation of "The Messiah" at the Congregational church next Tuesday night, by the Janesville and Milton community choruses and orchestra, has been started, and within the coming week the entire city will be canvassed and tickets will be sold at downtown stations so that all will have an opportunity of buying.

Members of the ticket committee, headed by Mrs. Frank O. Holt, have little expectation of hardship in selling the 500 single tickets. The demand was so good last year that many were unable to hear the oratorio, and because of this the tickets promise to sell rapidly this year. This is the more assured, as but 500 tickets have been offered for sale, as the Apollo club, which is giving the oratorio as one of its four concerts, has 400 season tickets, and the church is to be limited to 900. The church has been declared unsafe for the crowd of 1,000 that filled the aisles and back of the church last year. While tickets are selling at 75 cents each, the price is still declared too low by many, considering the quality of the attractions. Large city audiences pay almost any price for the more popular oratorio and the response of last year gives proof that Janesville has many music lovers.

In addition to the two community choruses which have been trained for weeks by L. H. Stringer, Milton college, several unusually good soloists have been secured to aid them. One change has been made in the list of soloists. Chicago, contralto, to replace Emily Berger, alto, so that it is now: soprano, Mae Graves Atkins, Chicago; contralto, Miss Keller; tenor, Glen Drake, Chicago; and bass, Harry Phillips, Minneapolis.

Music-lovers who intend to hear this oratorio are urged to buy a season ticket for the Apollo club. They are $2 for four concerts, thus being each one to a low mark, while single tickets for them when they come will be much higher. Mrs. Mark Bogtwick is in charge of sale of these.

Mrs. Holt is being aided in the sale of single "Messiah" tickets by Dr. J. Snodgrass, Mrs. Alan Dunwiddie, Mrs. Gerald Cunningham, Mrs. J. D. D. and Mrs. Maurice Weirick. Tickets are on sale at McKenzies Music store, Kuhlows Music store, Dehls-Drummonds, H. F. Nott's, Peoples Drug and the Reliable. It is a circumstance which is not likely to occur, they will be sold at the door.

Rehearsal, the next to the last one, will be held Wednesday night as usual at Library hall.

Copper strikes and up to the present. He confessed more than 200 workers had been killed in these disputes "by gunmen who went unpunished for their acts."

"The killing of Howard Hoffman was homicide and not murder," he continued, "some day and in some courtroom a jury will say that the time has come to stop the importation into peaceful communities of this type of men. I believe that day will come in this trial. I believe it is this jury that will immortalize itself by freeing all communities for all time from the sinister influence of the American gunner."

He told the history of the miners union in Williamson county. Mr. Kerr declared the men sought to organize "to better the condition of their bodies, but were met at every step by the powerful forces of organized capital."

"No doubt," Mr. Kerr continued, "many men in this jury will recall the days when the lot of the actual miner of the coal was a pitiful one indeed. Hours of work sometimes were as long as 14 and 16 and 18 hours out of the 24; the wages were so low that the miner was compelled to drag his body home from the mine, and his children, to the mine. Before the union came to Williamson county, 15 cents a ton was considered high pay. Then the miners organized—at least they sought to organize."

Organization Opposed
"And in that battle, at every step, these determined workers were met by the powerful forces of organized capital. The miners lost again and again, but they persisted. They won their liberty."

"And now in this case they are assailed for wanting to protect and organize this organization. They wanted to save this organization which has meant so much, not only to the miner himself and to his wife and his children, but to the great state itself."

States Attorney Delos Duty explained to the jury what the state would try to prove.

He told the jury that the organization known as the Southern Illinois Coal company, how it brought in outside laborers from all over the United States and also armed guards. About noon on July 21, he said, as a truckload of men were being brought in from Carbondale they were fired on from a bridge and the men in the truck were injured. Later that day there was great activity and late in the day hardware stores were robbed, guns and ammunition taken without consent of the owners and in some cases with force. A list of 1,000 men, went to the mine and fired upon the workmen who returned the fire. The firing, he said, continued all night and three union men were killed. During the night an agreement was made, Mr. Duty continued, the state would prove, whereby the men were to lay down their arms and leave the mine.

He related the circumstances of the march to the power plant where, he asserted, an effort was made by the miners to drive the men safe escort of the county, but that a man whom the state would prove was Hugh Willis drove up in an automobile from Herrin and conferred with the mine workers' union. Otis Clark, a defendant in the case, finally ordered the men with guns to lead the nonviolent men into the adjacent woods, he said, where Clark is alleged to have said with an oath, "now we will give you a chance to run under fire." Eleven were shot dead and some escaped with and without wounds.

LEGION OFFICERS ARE AWARDED PINS

Gifts Presented at Joint Meeting With Women's Auxiliary.

First joint meeting of the Richard Ellis post, American Legion, and the Women's Auxiliary to it, was held at the Moose hall, Tuesday night, and resulted in bestowing the Legion pins on the officers of the auxiliary. The legion men have been guests of the women at several affairs, this was the first officially held with the auxiliary.

Commander Ralph Kamp's welcoming address was responded to by President M. J. Dane, head of the auxiliary. Mr. Dane, head of the auxiliary, commended the legion men for their efficient work, Otto Beck presented them.

John Gross was chairman of the program which included a talk by Robert Drew, winner of the state legion essay contest; song by Robert Lane, Janesville, member of the University of Wisconsin legion post, accompanied by Miss Debra Sorenson, drum demonstration by Master George Ryan; reading by Miss Mildred Esser; and address by Mr. W. W. Brown, high school, member of the Slaughter post, who told of the example set by men in the legion to the high school pupils.

Refreshments were served, partly furnished by women of the auxiliary. The post is now occupied with the city-wide canvass for the service men. Each house is being called on.

Annual Meeting of Y. W., Jan. 16

The annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Jan. 16. The usual plan of having an outside speaker will not be followed this year. In order to give an opportunity for a fellowship gathering in which the association will be fully discussed.

The Young Women's Council will entertain at a Christmas party for older girls December 18. Each girl will be asked to bring a token gift, which some other guest will receive in a unique exchange stunt. An attractive program is being arranged by the recreation committee.

The publicity committee expects to bring out the first issue of the proposed monthly bulletin in January.

The Y. W. C. A. headquarters committee recently did a worthwhile piece of work in which a young girl who had received injuries while at work, was aided in obtaining the compensation provided by law, and otherwise assisted.

Paris—Vital statistics for the first six months of this year show a decrease of 25,000 births and an increase of 25,000 deaths over the corresponding period in 1921. The excess of births over deaths which last year was 73,000 is only 9,000 this year.

BRITISH JOURNALIST BLAMES AMERICAN FOR IMPRISONMENT

The funeral of William A. Douglas was held at 2 p. m. Wednesday from the residence, 505 Center avenue, with the Rev. R. G. Peterson, First Baptist church officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery.

Pallicars were Robert Gesteland, Chauncey Milmore, Marcus Kellogg, William Klotner, E. S. Barker and Thomas Spohn.

Before His Time
Old Dame—"When I was your age a young man never let a lady stand in a room."

Young Man—"No. At that time, young men traveled in stage coaches."—Stockholm Kasper.

Old Dame—"I never saw a young man who was so good as you are. Of seed and harvest time once more."

The spindle turns—the fall-time comes. The year stands forth in kaleidres: The fallen leaves are the grapes of the year. With each swift breeze the ripe nuts press.

And winter staid and solemn waits With sturdy faith while north winds And snows are blowing.

And he acknowledges with joy Earth's fullness is the Lord's alone.

Whose is so great a God as ours Who speaks and let the matted world Throws off its icy shack and calls The seedling in its bosom curled?

The issues of the year are His. From His hand comes the harvest gift. Let all His creatures in accord To Him their grateful praises lift.

Maude De Varise Newton.

The Better Way
He—"That young man with his eyes will drive me crazy yet can't you get him quiet?"

She—"Will try singing to him." He—"Oh, no, no, no, better let him cry."—London Answers.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

Bonds Are Inspected—A meeting of the bond committee of the county board of supervisors was held at the county house, Wednesday afternoon to go over the bonds submitted by banks for protection of the county deposits.

Chest Committee Meets—A meeting of the county chest committee of the local Chamber of Commerce was called for 5 p. m. Wednesday at the Chamber.

Forest Christmas Trees—Work on placing 250 Christmas trees on the downtown streets of the city was started Wednesday afternoon by men employed by the Chamber of Commerce. The trees, braced in green stands, average seven feet. They are being placed along the curbs at intervals of 25 feet.

Car Is Damaged—A sedan owned by Floyd Harrison and driven by his wife, was damaged in a collision with the 6 o'clock interurban car at the corner of Second and Franklin streets Tuesday night. The interurban was going south and the automobile east when the front end of the latter was struck and the car was dragged several feet. No one was hurt.

Tournament Planned—A game tournament at the Y. M. C. A. Dec. 25-30 will keep boys of the junior department occupied during the Christmas vacation. Ribbons are to be presented to winners in billiards and pocket billiards and pin-point for junior and senior high school boys; in equestrian, ping-pong and checkers for the Junior A's and B's.

High School Parties—Members of the junior class are planning on a party at the Y. M. C. A. Dec. 21. The party will be a check-room, is now being remodeled for an extension of the boys' department, and a new building is being erected on the corner of Second and Franklin streets.

Musical Additional Room—The room at the music floor of the Y. M. C. A. former used for a check-room, is now being remodeled for an extension of the boys' department, and a new building is being erected on the corner of Second and Franklin streets.

Refreshments—Refreshments were served, partly furnished by women of the auxiliary. The post is now occupied with the city-wide canvass for the service men. Each house is being called on.

300 Attend As Five Nurses Are Given Diplomas

Three hundred attended the commencement exercises of Mercy hospital Tuesday night in St. Patrick's hall at which time five young women were presented with diplomas which certify that they are registered nurses after completing the three years' training at the local hospital.

Roger Cunningham, city attorney, presided at the program. The school for the blind orchestra played a march as the nurses entered the hall. The graduates occupied seats on the stage.

Supt. Frank O. Holt gave an inspiring address in which he emphasized the importance of the place which the nurse plays in the community. He told of the many virtues which the community expects of the nurse and complimented the graduates on their excellent qualifications to fulfill their obligations.

Mrs. Wayne Arthur Mann gave a group of readings and Theodore Dacey a vocal solo.

Rev. Dean James F. Ryan, one of the board of directors of Mercy hospital, presented the diplomas. He related the experiences which many patients have had at Mercy hospital, telling of the excellent treatment which they received from the Sisters of Mercy. Dean Ryan said that many living in larger cities have mentioned their surprise to him at finding such a fully equipped hospital in a city the size of Janesville.

The Dean of Northwestern University, while here during a hospital campaign, said that Mercy hospital would be a credit to a city the size of Chicago.

Miss Rose Golden, formerly of the Louisville City Hospital, Ky., has recently taken the position of Superintendent of Nurses at Mercy hospital.

Those who received diplomas were: Miss Ida Wheeler, Waukesha; Miss Catherine Monka, Two Rivers; Sister Mary Benedict, Janesville; Miss Zola Turner, Edgerton; and Miss Gladys Bohlin, Janesville.

A class of ten will be graduated in May. The exercises closed with a reception by the orchestra.

Early last of December, the procession of nurses attired as a flower girl. Presents were presented to the graduates by the Pembor and Nazam clinic.

Dennis McCarthy, Porter, George Woodruff, Janesville, members of the Rock county highway committee and Commissioner Charles E. Moore are auditing road accounts at the court house this week. A financial statement on road costs in Rock county is being prepared for the state highway commission. An investigation is to be made by Commissioner Moore this week on the report that the telephone companies are placing poles too near the highways along dangerous curves.

Christmas Dinner Kettles Placed

Salvation Army Christmas kettles in charge of solicitors have been located at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets, Franklin and Milwaukee streets, and Franklin and Milwaukee streets. Owing to the limited number of workers in the local corps, the kettles will be kept on the streets only during those periods of the day when the largest number of people are passing in the business district. Collection boxes have also been placed in stores and banks and it is hoped that the response will be generous.

Lieutenant Roy Hanson commanding party at the station is investigating the present status of those who are listed at headquarters as having received Christmas baskets last year, and all new cases or need reported. Representatives of churches and other organizations that expect to provide Christmas baskets to compare notes with the Salvation Army list in order to avoid duplication.

THE PARK ON THE RIVER.

There are 133 acres in the Rock River Park
 which has been ordered purchased by the city council. It is the first step we have ever taken since Henry Jones and the St. Johns came to Rock River valley, 87 years ago. The park itself does not lie perhaps exactly as one would have laid it out had he been here when land was taken over anywhere and almost for the asking. But it is the only available piece of property close to the city limits with any of its natural beauty left or its topography unspoiled by tillage. True, the railroad cuts across the property, dividing that part which lies for 1,000 feet along Highway No.
 10 from that along the river. Between the river and the railroad there is a ravine, with heavy growth of trees and shady dells and nooks—ideal for the picnicer. The shore line of the river is pleasing with its wide curve and a deep bay giving
 promise of a most excellent space for water sports.

It is not necessary that all the work that can be done to make an ideal park should be done at once. That may well be spread over a number of years. Eventually with the growth of the city it may be thought wise to build a bridge from the east side to the park. With a little cleaning up the grounds will be usable all next season. It is important that a road for both pedestrians and autos should be constructed from Washington street to the park. Upon the grounds are several cottages and a large hall. As it stands today,
 this hall, well built and substantial, is the home
 of many hundreds of birds who find here asylum
 against the cold. Under regulation by the city,
 as in other parks the bathing beach and dancing
 pavilion and the concrete outdoor dancing floor
 may be utilized to good advantage.

One is impressed with the size of the tract as he walks over it and climbs along the ridges or stands in the level places by the shore at the northwest end. There are spots which nature has provided exactly designed for a zoo. And with seats arranged along a concave curving hillside a natural auditorium may be provided. One may see what possibility for a great, splendid play ground
 and community recreation place the new park is even now in the bleakness of a winter day with fugitive leaves hanging tenaciously to trees and
 the dead grass covering the tops of the hills,
 while below, widening toward city smoke and high rising steeples, the river, icebound, winds in a sheen of silver. In late October the whole ridge was blazing with the chromatids which Nature,
 touching with deft hand, left as its contribution to the glory of our world.

Do we want to call it Riverside? Or is that name fraught with unpleasant memories and suggestions. It might be well to think this over and the Gazette will be pleased to hear from the people whose park this is as to a name.

It's a poor town that cannot have a Clara
 Phillips make a visit.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

There were two outstanding facts in the life of John Wanamaker who has just died. He was especially proud of being a merchant and wanted to be the best merchant in the world and he believed in advertising, backing up the advertising
 with honest goods and prices. He spent millions of dollars in newspaper advertising and built up his business from a few dollars of trade—$24 the first day he was in business—to enormous yearly sums.

In the days when "store keeping" meant hanging over every sale, John Wanamaker put price
 tags on his goods and began a new era in merchandising. He had some political ambition and at one time sat in the cabinet of President Harrison. But his outside recreation was in the Sunday school and the church and all about Philadelphia he was known as a hard working man who led meetings and paid his money in a helpful way. He will remain for many years the eminent example for all merchants in his business life and in his maintenance of high ideals in selling goods to the public.

Talk about a real estate owner, every little propagandist has a bloc of his own.

BOSSSED BY A MINORITY.

Senator Underwood, when conducting the fil-bust in the senate by which the Dyer bill was lost, said that "under the rules of the senate
 when 15 or 20 or 25 men say that you cannot pass a certain bill it cannot be passed. You could not pass the tariff bill last summer until we agreed to vote on the bill."

It is well for the country to understand the responsibility of the minority. Under the rules of the senate the small minority can dominate legislation. Here we were, out in the country, denouncing the republicans, and the administration
 was receiving its share of the criticism for not passing the tariff bill, while all the time, Senator Underwood, democratic leader, and his few in the minority were to blame for the delay. He admits it. And the pity is that the senate seems altogether powerless to change the rules and adopt some measure of closure for relief. Here again the 15 or 20 are able to stop such a rule
 and hold up more legislation.

 danger menacing the bowling game there in its
 becoming harmfully tainted with the gambling spirit. Bowling is a clean sport, one of the best.

GOING AFTER FOREIGN TRADE

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—America's position in world
 trade today is largely due to an organization
 which in Washington is becoming familiarly known as "Klein's Foreign Men." Its official name is the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. The director of this organization is Julius Klein.

The present bureau was an outgrowth of the old Bureau of Statistics, one of the oldest of all governmental bureaus in Washington. The government began to collect and publish its statistics
 of foreign trade and navigation as early as 1790.
 Throughout almost the whole of the nineteenth century this work was entrusted to the Bureau of Statistics, which was then an adjunct of the treasury department. In 1903 the Department of Commerce and Labor was created, and the Bureau of Statistics was transferred to the new ministry. In 1912 it was further reorganized and the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce was created.

The gathering of trade statistics continued to be the chief function of the bureau, but gradually
 it has been taking on new duties calculated to stimulate American foreign trade. With the outbreak of the European war in 1914 the eyes of American producers turned more seriously toward foreign commerce. The government established the office of commercial attaché at our principal embassies and legations abroad. These attachés and they were selected from the first by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Secretary of Commerce, now almost two years ago, the Bureau had contented itself with the collection of trade information. This was useful to the commerce of the United States, and it warranted the expense of collection, but nevertheless
 it was not of much value to the small manufacturer. He could not afford to maintain the export organization that was necessary to enable him
 to take advantage of the opportunities which the government laid before him. What he needed was actual expert help, not only brought him and the foreign business together, but enabled him to land it.

Mr. Hoover saw in the original charter of the Department of Commerce the authority to build that department into an actual foreign-trade-getting body. The logical bureau to handle such a task was the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, and to this bureau the task was entrusted. The results of two years of effort have so transformed this bureau that it has become virtually a new governmental institution. Certainly it is one of the most outstanding administrative developments in Washington since President Harding took office.

For one thing, in size it is rapidly eclipsing all other branches of the Department of Commerce.
 Two years ago the bureau occupied only a suite of offices in the twelve-story Commerce Building in Washington. Today it fills a whole floor of the building. It is a big and a character, however, which are most changed. The old bureau collected and published its statistics in a scholarly and unassuming way, but the new one embodies pep,
 go-getter-ness, and all the other qualities of modern American business.

To bring about the transformation Secretary Hoover reached out to Buenos Aires and took
 there from the American commercial attaché, Julius Klein, and installed him as chief of the Bureau. Although Mr. Klein is a Ph. D. from Harvard, a former student in foreign universities and a former assistant professor at Harvard, he is no
 patriarch having yet to celebrate his thirty-seventh birthday. He is an expert in Latin-American economies. As he has built up the bureau he has put in men of his own type.

At present the bureau consists of two main
 parts: the foreign service—commercial attachés
 and trade commissioners in 25 principal trade
 centers—and domestic, with district and cooperative offices of the bureau in most of the chief American cities. These divisions put together form the information-gathering and distribution service.

But it is one thing to gather the necessary information and put it at the disposal of American business, and quite another thing to get business
 to take advantage of the information. And here is where the chief innovation of the present administration of the bureau came in.

The war organization of the government had shown the way. The powerful War Industries Board, which controlled all industry during the war and was only kept by the armistice from extending its dictatorial powers over the War and Navy Departments themselves, found out how to bring Government in close working contact with business. The War Industries Board created within itself the so-called commodity sections, each managed by experts competent to deal with the branch of industry which produced a particular commodity. Then it fostered the organization by business of manufacturers war service committee,
 each committee also representing the entire American production of a single commodity. Committees and sections both worked together, and in this way all of American industry was brought under a single control.

In exactly the same way our foreign trade is now being guided. Dr. Klein has created within his bureau commodity divisions each one concerning with the trade in one particular commodity.
 More than 20 of these divisions have already been created, and new ones are constantly being organized. They work with committees chosen to represent industries, agriculture, and other business interests. The liaison between government and business is made complete by the caliber of the men chosen to lead the commodity divisions.
 These are not political appointments in any sense.
 Each industry is asked to present the names of
 two or three of their men best qualified to handle
 the job in Washington, and one of these is picked
 by Secretary Hoover.

These are the main branches of this new trade organization. They are assisted by several technical divisions among which should be noted the newly created commercial laws division. With 40 nations changing their import tariffs this year,
 and with a bewildering and constantly shifting multitude of other trade regulations throughout the world, it is highly important that the latest information of this sort be on hand in Washington for the benefit of exporters. Such information the commercial laws division obtains.

Those called in to head the branches and divisions of this organization are for the most part keen, energetic, young business men, most of whom have made reputations in their own lines
 and who take their government jobs at a sacrifice.
 They are bringing a new atmosphere into the departmental offices.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

KEEP AT IT
 If you really want to win
 Keep at it!
 When a task you once begin.
 Keep at it!
 It may be long, but don't Mean may laugh at your dismay.
 But some day you'll find the way.
 Keep at it!

If you've started for a goal,
 Keep at it!
 With your heart and mind and soul,
 Keep at it!
 Make mistakes, as people must,
 But get up and shake the dust.
 From your garments, and then just
 Keep at it!

When you've learned where you are weak,
 Keep at it!
 You can win the job you seek.
 Keep at it!
 Study, practice, think and plan,
 Make yourself a better man,
 If another can, you can—
 Keep at it!

Even though you fail today,
 Keep at it!
 Never throw your dream away.
 Keep at it!
 Let the thought of laugh and cheer,
 Then pretend you do not hear.
 When you've conquered, they will cheer—
 Keep at it!

Keep at it, day and night;
 Keep at it!
 If you'd paint, or sing, or write,
 Keep at it!
 Hold the goal you crave in view,
 There is much that you can do,
 By and by you'll find the way,
 Keep at it!

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOUTON.

FINTISHED
 I yield me to a gentle melancholy.
 Whenever logic tells my weary brain
 That many of the sweetest kinds of folly
 That I have known, I shall not taste again;
 That there are scenes that I may not revisit,
 And woodland ways that I may walk no more,
 I know—and care not little. But why is it
 That I am sad for foolish days of yore?

For young romances I wear no weeds nor willows
 For triumphs past I shed no longing tears,
 But, oh, those sweet and silly paradoxes
 That are impossible to reason's spheres!
 The easy, glib, and facile
 The sins that now have not the taste of sin—
 The hell-to-pay that roused my exultation
 More than it heaven had been the goal to win!

Even the holiest crimes I have committed
 Attract me, when I tell myself the truth;
 I was a criminal, era age had bidden
 The dark, wild horrors of rebellious youth!
 I've covered in a noisome cell with felons,
 Not knowing what the morrow held in store—
 That shame (you'll find) for seeking waterlilies
 Alackaday, I'll savor ne'er more.

There is many an "intellectual" in the profession of journalism who seems to be endowed with everything except an intellect.

We were going to have Clemenceau up to the house for dinner and to spend the night until we heard that he always goes to bed at 8 o'clock.
 He would simply be wasting his time to go to bed in our neighborhood at that time of the night, for at that time most of the actors and other professional people who infest our neighborhood have only recently had breakfast.
 If Clemenceau could visit us and arrange to stay up until about 1 o'clock in the morning he would have a pleasant time and, incidentally find out
 how our aristocracy lives—and why.

Who's Who Today

ADMIRAL H. P. JONES, U. S. N.

A general order of the navy department has just made Admiral H. P. Jones the supreme commander of the United States scuba diving
 forces both in times of peace and war.
 Jones will have command
 of the fleet which combines the fighting units of the navy, including the battle fleet, the
 "outing" fleet, the control
 fleet and the fleet base force.
 He will have command of the fleet of the U. S. navy has met for maneuvers it
 has been necessary to designate a commander in chief.
 Jones has been thirty-seven years active service in the navy. He was born in Virginia, Nov. 14, 1863, and was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1884. He commanded the Scorpion, the Birmingham, the Tennessee,
 the Rhode Island and the Florida before reaching his rank.

During the World War he first commanded Squadron 1 of the patrol force, Atlantic fleet,
 then Division 4 and the Newport News division
 of the cruiser and transport force, Atlantic fleet. Since then he has been in command of the Atlantic fleet, commanding the battleship force.

Admiral Jones was awarded Distinguished Service Medal for meritorious service during the World War.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Dec. 13, 1882.—The electric light is only in operation from six p. m. until nine.—The ladies
 having in charge the free library, for which a great deal of money was raised last night by
 the entertainment given by the business men,
 rooms in Bennett's block on the second floor,
 and they are being filled up to receive the books
 and newspapers purchased.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Dec. 13, 1892.—Annual meetings of the City
 Hospital association and the Humane society will be held in the rooms of the Business Men's club on the bridge tomorrow night. All are invited. On the program will be songs by Mrs.
 Conrad and Miss Belle Rolston.—A check for $1,000 was received by the city yesterday for the city yesterday paid roll of three of a dozen checks offered.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dec. 13, 1902.—Scaffolding has been erected,
 and carving of the stone work on front of the new public library will begin at once.—Yessoff,
 "The Terrible Turk," will wrestle Fred Beall
 Dec. 25.—Heavy work at the cement
 post company has been caused by the near arrival of the heating apparatus.—An electric railway from here to Green Bay via Madison, is being planned.

TEN YEARS AGO

Dec. 13, 1912.—Stage attractions which are coming during the next few weeks are "The Slave," "The Only Son," with Thomas W. Ross,
 "The Third Degree," while the moving picture
 attractions for the same period include "Camille"
 with Sarah Bernhardt, "Oliver Twist," with Nat C. Goodwin, and Balfe's opera, "The Bohemian Girl."

WISDOM OF GAMALIEL

Now I do unto you. Refrain from these men, and let them alone; for if I counsel or this work be of men, it will come to naught; but if it
 be of God, ye cannot overthrow it;
 lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.—Acts 5:26, 29.

THE FOODS WE EATEN ON

October 27 I gave a list of foods
 which are good for us and to a responsible extent satisfying to the appetite yet do not tax particularly
 I promised to give on another occasion a list of foods which are chiefly to blame for the alarming increase of obesity in America and Canada.

Diabetes, a disease probably due to overeating, is on the increase; cardiovascular degeneration (heart-artery weakening out) seems to be on the increase, or at any rate the mortality (tabes) showing a strong line for such conditions of CVD as apoplexy,
 neuritis (Bright's disease), arterio-
 sclerosis and so called organic heart disease. It is my belief that the average displacement is greater and the average displacement is lower today than it was 50 and more years ago. I ascribe
 this to the lure of the carbohydrates.

A carbohydrate is almost anything
 good to eat but meat, anything without or sweet.

Sugar is the queen of the carbohydrates. Sugar is as easy to eat as some creatures are to look at, and the curse of sugar is that one can eat it in enormous quantities even when one hasn't one's appetite along. A generous allowance of sugar is also for active children, not to nibble on all
 day, but with the food in all directions
 at meals. Sugar properly used is an ideal food, particularly useful as a source of quickly available muscular energy, for the voluntary muscles of the body require sugar as well as the muscle of the heart. Mountain climbers often rely on sugar in one form or another to replenish their energies on hard climbs. But long distances indoor climbing is not the best method of using it in their poor metabolism. If they take it freely, in sweets of any kind, they can scarcely avoid growing fat—or flabby.

Too much carbohydrate in the in-
 takes makes the tissues flabby, flabby
 water lagged, because an excess of sugar in the system (and all starches
 and sugars become sugar in the blood) causes the retention of an excess of water. This causes a permanent increase in the indolence, peev-ishness, lack of pep or vigor and tendency toward quickly tiring on moderate exertion, which children and adults show when consuming too
 much carbohydrate.

Items Chiefly to Blame
 The fat and the potentially fat get

Have been using saccharin since the war when I was unable to get sugar,
 as I am inclined to stoutness, but my friends say it will get me in the end.
 (P. J.)

Answer—Possibly not to exceed
 a few grains, as when used daily may be used as a sweetener in place of sugar
 without risk by some persons, but I should not advise its constant use.
 For I think it may do more harm than good.

Q. Should strong tea be made by letting it steep longer than weak tea?
 (P. J.)

A. Tea should never stand for more than three minutes after the freshly boiled water has been poured over the leaves. Regular strength by the amount of tea leaves used. In three minutes or less the leaves give up all their flavor, aroma and caffeine.
 After three minutes the leaves begin
 to give up their tannin.

Q. How can I better penetrate into the ocean? C. O. N.

A. The limit of penetration is somewhere between 600 and 800 fathoms, which is 3,000 to 4,000 feet. The depths of the ocean is measured by the depths of the light rays and are gradually absorbed at different
 depths, depending on the wave length and the clearness of the water. The dark rays are absorbed most quickly
 in the uppermost layers; the light
 rays penetrate deeper, while the blue rays penetrate deepest of all.

Q. Where did the name cantaloupe
 come from? C. G.

A. Cantaloupes are so named from Cantalupo, Italy, where the melons
 were first grown in Europe.

Q. How many Christian missions
 are there in the world? C. G.

A. There are about 10,000 Protestant missionaries from the United States, and about as many more from other countries. The Roman Catholics have about 15,000 foreign missionaries.

Q. What books did Lincoln read as a boy? H. R. H.

A. The list included the Bible, Pilgrims Progress, Aesop's Fables, Robertson's History of the United States and the statutes of Indiana.

Q. Who was the candidate against McKinley when he was elected governor of Ohio? H. R. H.

A. James E. Campbell, democrat, who was elected governor of Ohio in 1890, was the candidate of his party
 for re-election in 1892 when McKinley
 was elected.

Q. What is the origin of the expression skeleton in the closet?
 A. J. W.

A. The expression popularized the expression by incorporating it in his writings, but it was already a current phrase in conversation.

Q. How is camphor made? T. F.

A. Camphor gum is made by distillating the leaves, bark and chips of

In How Many Ways Can You Prepare Oranges?

Medical authorities everywhere
 agree that citrus fruits are a prac-

CHILD'S CHRISTMAS

Who has not loved a little child, he knows not Christmas Day—walking
 through the dawn-dimmed gray,
 White tropic forests on the pane
 against the dawn-dimmed gray,
 The awe of faith unshaken in lifted
 childish eyes;

The spluttered, spicy, teasing joy of
 kitchen-fragrance sweet,
 The sting of frost upon his face, the
 snow-cold breath his feet;

The swish of runners, song of bells,
 the laughing-wood call
 From drifted hilltops, sparkling
 white; the blue sky folding all;

The holly-berried table top, the feasting and the fun,
 With Christmas ribbons strewn all
 until the day is done;

The hush of candle-lighting time; the
 heart-flame flickered red,
 The warm soft elaps of clinging
 hands up shadowed stairs to bed;

The crib-side talk that slacks and

ELKHORN

County Seat News.
MRS. GRANT HARRINGTON,
Telephone 35.

Elkhorn—A decision in favor of the defendants in the case of Howard Knapp, and E. J. Blake against American Insurance company was made by Judge B. B. Belden. The case involved whether the clause in the insurance policy covered a barn invalidated its enforcement because the property was covered by other policies. This was the contention of the defense and sustained by the court decision.

The Rev. Herbert Lord, rector of St. James church, Milwaukee, preached to a large audience Sunday.

Mrs. S. B. Morrison has been to Milwaukee for a week to care for Master John White Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes are on a trip to Minneapolis.

Elkhorn—The Legion boys are solicitors for the Metropolitan Entertainers, who come to the opera house Dec. 15. The company is an unusually good one and indications are that every seat will be sold.

The Rev. J. M. Hargrett, pastor of the First Methodist church, Racine, will lecture in the M. E. church Friday night on his trip to Europe the past summer. He will tell about the Passion Play at Oberammergau, in particular. All will be welcome.

K. T. at Delavan—The members of the Elkhorn commandery, Knights Templar, will pay a fraternal visit to Delavan next Monday night. They will have charge of the degree work. The event will be of unusual interest as many of the Delavan members formerly belonged to the Elkhorn chapter.

The ministers of the county enjoyed a good program of their own at Lake Geneva Monday, and were invited to attend a meeting of the Women's club to see Wilhelmina Huggins, the blind and deaf girl from Janesville, give a remarkable demonstration.

Tournament of bands—The Lake Geneva Boys' band, of which he is instructor, at the convention in Madison last Saturday. Supr. C. A. Jahr represented the Elkhorn school bands. The 1922 tournament will be held in Two Rivers the second week in June. Two Rivers being a large manufacturing center, its representatives promised the boys a good time.

The Episcopal women will hold an all day bazaar in Columbus hall Saturday. A card party will be given at night.

Rev. T. Parker Milborne gives his lecture, "A Year in the Land of the Pharisees," at the Adams church Wednesday night. He will be accompanied by Mr. Hooker.

Annual Reception—The members of the school board and their wives give their annual reception to the public school teachers. Miss Martin, county superintendent, and her assistants, Thursday night at community hall. There is to be music and progressive games. Mrs. Calvin Barnes has charge of the refreshments.

The men's bible classes of G. R. Miller and Mrs. H. D. L. Adkins M. E. Sunday school will partake of a dinner at 6 p. m. Friday at the church dining room.

Personal—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holton, Miss Emma Holton, and Mrs. Grant Harrington formed a matinee party that heard Harry Lauder in Milwaukee Tuesday.

James Arthur Desing and George McIntyre went to Chicago Wednesday for a two days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hubbard and the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hubbard, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Corey, Beloit, Sunday.

Colin McKendall, Glenn Vandenberg, and Edna Lundstrom made up a men's theater party for Milwaukee Tuesday night.

Misses Edward Hicks, George Kellogg and Arthur Wales, the Misses Mercedes Hicks and Norma Johnson spent Wednesday in Milwaukee.

Mrs. W. C. Woolm and the Rev. William Phillips went to Chicago Wednesday. Mrs. Woolm will return Thursday.

A little daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Alie Wilcox, Dec. 2, has been named Lorraine Helen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Potter, Leonard Cobb, Mrs. Smith visited old friends in Spring Prairie recently.

WALWORTH

Walworth—The Parent-Teacher association held a regular monthly meeting at the school house Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollinshead, Beloit, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Koeppen Sunday.

Mr. Hoyt is slowly recovering from a recent operation at Harvard hospital.

Adolph Simonson is expected home this week from Wales sanitarium.

Mrs. Charles Ellis and children, Lake Beulah, visited Mrs. Nettie Hibbard from Friday until Sunday. Mr. Ellis drove over Sunday.

Helen, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Porter, is seriously ill with pneumonia. A trained nurse is in attendance.

The Royal Neighbors elected officers for the ensuing year last Thursday night.

gration problem, also a pressing labor question."

May Need Labor—It was pointed out during the meeting that Americans were alarmed when the annual importation of aliens numbered between 50,000 and 1,000,000 until the tide raised to high marks in terms of millions during and after the famous Homestead strike in 1892 when eastern Europeans flooded through the entry ports. This flood resulted in the passage of anti-foreign laws.

Speakers declared that it was fallacy to believe immigration was not needed in America. The number received, it was pointed out, barely keeps pace with industrial needs. Men are now needed to fill the depleted ranks. Figures were quoted that 1,500,000 Americans and others were retiring annually from American industry and the birthrate of the nation only supplied 500,000 of the number required.

"American born boys do not seek industry," declared Secretary Bowser. "The industrial capacity of America is greater than ever. The war boom industries more than ever and we have had little or no immigration as compared to the past since 1914 until 1922. Good labor immigrants are now going back to their native lands after having prospered here. Reports show that more than 6,500 more of these American trained laborers are leaving each month than we are receiving."

Trade Education—Members brought out the fact that the present system of education had drifted away from teaching trades or crafts and conditions were such that there were few or no crafts apprenticeship instruction.

"Out of every student I have asked, I never had one show a desire to follow a trade," declared E. S. Lane, executive manual training instructor in the Janesville high school.

Changes in national education systems were discussed to create craftsmen, kind wage earners without "distaste for industry." It was brought out that a good plasterer under the present scale can earn more than $10 a week in the city, so that "white collar jobs" are not always the money makers.

"Prosperity of laborers means a drop in birth-rate," brought in Secretary Bowser, showing the steady reduction in American industry in the labor supply of the country. He presented his facts, leaving his audience to draw its own conclusions.

It was declared that American industry, going back to a normal basis of large production, was feeling the pinch of labor shortage, and pressure was being brought to repeal present national restrictive immigration.

America's commanding industrial position was detailed with the natural supply of coal and iron as the backbone of future industry. Many industries in the cities, it was explained, were now pulling their "supply of labor" out of the farms. This was held to be dangerous for the reason farming must be kept up to high standards and the main industry of the United States.

The four propositions presented during the discussion, several of which were declared impractical, were as follows:

- 1—Stimulation of birth-rate in America by legislation.
- 2—Changes in the educational system to create good wage earners for trades and industry, somewhat similar to the agricultural schools.
- 3—Reduction in American industries to meet the labor supply.

—More immigration with correct Americanization system and stricter naturalization laws.

"We have to have somebody to do the work," declared E. A. Taylor, "and not in favor of deporting a good workman if he fails to take out citizenship papers. It is nothing so that our new educated Americans will not work with their hands."

"Mechanical appliances will solve considerable of the future labor problem," declared J. A. Craig, remaining on the advance made in the handling of lumber.

The merit of Chinese as laborers was commented upon by George S. Farber.

Speakers declared that America could expect little immigration in the future from the educated European nations, rather from southern Europe, and when this supply is exhausted the only group left is the Orient.

Twilight club members saw the national immigration problem in a new light and a new importance as the result of the open discussion, led by Otto Oestreich, leader.

The subject for the next meeting will be "Citizens Responsibility to the New Government," with J. L. Wilcox as leader.

PREMIERS LOOK TO HARDING FOR AID

Reparations Problem Is Deposited on Doorstep of White House.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington—The reparations problem which for four years has kept Europe in a state of apprehension has been deposited for settlement on the doorstep of the white house.

The deadlock in the conference of premiers at London with the decision to have another conference in January means that Europe still hopes the United States will lend a helping voice if not a hand in bringing the nations together on a workable program.

Try as the American government may under this administration as under the preceding one to regard the reparations question as a separate and distinct matter of allied war debts to the United States, the practical side of the matter now inseparable from the two really are. Great Britain is trying to appease French sentiment by proposing a cancellation of British debt in exchange for an agreement of France's part to accept a lower rate of reparations from Germany. And when that cycle of negotiation begins, it finally ends with the barrier of America's debt on the adjustment of which no authoritative word has been spoken by anyone even the funding commission appointed by act of congress.

Express an Opinion

If the United States would only discuss the question of reparations and war debts and express an opinion, her moral influence would go far toward compelling a settlement. The scales are evenly balanced. America can throw her weight in any direction.

Europe's Plan to America

Europe's plan for American aid in solving the reparations problem may have been the day for the proposal of such a treaty. France can help materially by ratifying the arms treaties. Between now and then the proposed conference of the allied premiers in January something may be expected from the allied governments, a more toward participation based, of course, on the thought that Europe must soon make a beginning on her economic problem or such foreign trade as the United States has may be materially impaired.

At three o'clock in the morning of January 2, 1923, the Hyatt House burned. One life was known to have been lost. It was Janesville's greatest fire. Here the mysterious revelations of "The Callahan Trunk" began. Read the opening chapters in the Week End Gazette.

Clemenceau and Poincare

Former Premier Clemenceau's visit contributed a friendly touch to a controversial atmosphere but until the government of Premier Poincare shows the same flexibility in policy as did M. Clemenceau in personal contact with America there will be little change of convincing the Harding administration that even a slight departure from its policy of seclusion would be of any avail at this time.

Were France to manifest a more tractable attitude, there is no telling what progress might be made toward winning the cooperation of President Harding and Secretary Hughes. The insertion by the president in his recent message of a direct line that America would like to see two principles of the four-power pact applied to Europe was not an accident. It had a purpose. No one will admit that it was an overture to France, the ex-prosessor of a hope that France would ratify the naval arms treaty and open the way to further steps in international conference with America. It included in it by most of the diplomats who have enabled their foreign offices about it. And they think it is one of the most significant steps that has been taken by Mr. Harding since the arms conference met a year ago.

Association of Nations

The ambition of the Harding administration, of course, is to fulfill the pledge made for some time past to bring nations in place of the League of Nations. The latest development is the idea of making a five-power or six-power pact in Europe, including the United States, Germany, Great Britain, France, Italy and probably Belgium to bind themselves mutually to respect each other's rights. Such a guarantee by France that it would respect the territorial integrity of Germany and such an assurance that the Germans would be committed against an invasion of France would mean an instant conference wherein moral suasion would be applied the principle of investment, and Harding's chief idea on international affairs is the Bryan idea of resting agreements on moral rather than physical force.

$34,000 HIGHEST PRICE EVER PAID FOR POSTAGE STAMP

Elkhorn—Rare stamps bring fabulous prices, occasionally selling at $20,000 to $30,000 and more. N. E. ("Nick") Carter, Elkhorn's curio dealer for the past 22 years, brought out in an entertaining tale before the Kiwanis club here this week, the history of one of the best talks heard by Kiwanians the past few months.

"The most money ever received for one stamp was paid by Arthur King, Union, N. Y., who gave $24,125, and it was said the king of England was the person, who, through his agents, ran the stamp up to this tremendous figure," Mr. Carter said.

He told of a tour of Europe in 1839 when he made the rounds of stamp dealers in the large cities, inspecting in London the collection of Charles J. Phillips, proprietor of Stanley Gibbons & Co., Ltd., the biggest stamp firm in the world.

"Just now," continued Mr. Carter, "stamp fans are much excited over the sale in Paris, at auction, of the famous Fauriol collection, which the late museum, but as the collection was in Paris, the French government confiscated the stamps and have been selling them at public auction about every six weeks. Monsieur Fauriol had made an auction but had spent most of his life in Paris. When the war broke out he, being a German sympathizer, went to Switzerland where he died. France voted his will and is applying the proceeds to Germany's war debt.

"I bought one stamp from this sale for $225, a 12 d. Canada 1859 issue. Other stamps at this sale have brought high prices, as follows: Hawaiian 2-cent, first issue, $11,000; British Guiana, $14,000; Rosegreen, N. T. issued in 1815, $12,000; Lockport, N. Y., 1846 issue, $3,500.

WALL STREET FIRE RISK ELIMINATED

Two Bams Condemned, Fireproof Bin and Boiler Room Ordered.

Fire hazard at the Bower City Mill, work company and adjoining buildings where two bad fires have occurred the past two months, will be eliminated, Chief C. J. Murphy believes, following action of state men summoned here by him.

Chief Murphy announced, Tuesday, that the millwork company has been instructed to build a fireproof shavings bin and boiler room and that two bams nearby, owned by Mary Reed and P. B. Burton, have been condemned.

The orders were issued by J. E. Moran, head of the fire prevention department of the state industrial commission, and L. E. Fredericksen, state factory inspector, both of whom investigated conditions in this block.

Representative of the underwriters also investigated.

The contract for the new work at the mill has been let, Leo H. Atwood announced.

At Monday night's council meeting, a resolution was passed to have the chief of police go into the matter for the protection of owners of property adjoining the mill, but Chief Murphy's announcement Tuesday shows that the matter has already been taken care of by the state.

The two millwork company bams which caused a loss of $1,700 are believed to have been caused from a small hole in the bin on the side toward the boiler which allowed heat and sparks to go through into the shavings. Chief Murphy says the hole had been cut with a view to putting a steam pipe through to be turned on in case of fire in the bin, but that the connection had never been completed.

"We had planned to rebuild our bin (fireproof) following our first fire but hadn't gotten around to it before the second fire," said Mr. Atwood.

Christmas Trees Same Price but of Higher Quality

With merchants listing staple and fancy groceries, candy and other necessities at lower prices than several years past, it is a pleasure to know that Christmas trees, in spite of the reported scarcity of them in the north, will be no higher than last year.

A mammoth pine tree is being erected in court house park this week by Street Commissioner Thomas McKune for a community Christmas tree.

"Trees are rather hard to find this year," said one merchant, "but those bought are better in quality than last year's and much better than those of the year previous. Fires in the north have part of the state and in Minnesota destroyed many trees, and it was first thought that they would be almost impossible to get, but we will have enough to supply our demand, I guess."

And other merchants as shown by the large stacks in front of the stores, are prepared to meet a big demand. Cheapest trees will be about 35 cents it is thought, this price being paid for those two and three feet high. Those a little larger will be 50 cents, but even those will be smaller than

as they were last year. The holly wreaths which have the largest demand, will sell for 20, 30 and 40 cents, while evergreen wreaths will bring about the same price.

Store windows are now filled with Christmas tree decorations, evergreen being unbreakable decorations.

Representative of the underwriters also investigated.

The contract for the new work at the mill has been let, Leo H. Atwood announced.

At Monday night's council meeting, a resolution was passed to have the chief of police go into the matter for the protection of owners of property adjoining the mill, but Chief Murphy's announcement Tuesday shows that the matter has already been taken care of by the state.

The two millwork company bams which caused a loss of $1,700 are believed to have been caused from a small hole in the bin on the side toward the boiler which allowed heat and sparks to go through into the shavings. Chief Murphy says the hole had been cut with a view to putting a steam pipe through to be turned on in case of fire in the bin, but that the connection had never been completed.

"We had planned to rebuild our bin (fireproof) following our first fire but hadn't gotten around to it before the second fire," said Mr. Atwood.

Christmas Trees Same Price but of Higher Quality

With merchants listing staple and fancy groceries, candy and other necessities at lower prices than several years past, it is a pleasure to know that Christmas trees, in spite of the reported scarcity of them in the north, will be no higher than last year.

A mammoth pine tree is being erected in court house park this week by Street Commissioner Thomas McKune for a community Christmas tree.

"Trees are rather hard to find this year," said one merchant, "but those bought are better in quality than last year's and much better than those of the year previous. Fires in the north have part of the state and in Minnesota destroyed many trees, and it was first thought that they would be almost impossible to get, but we will have enough to supply our demand, I guess."

And other merchants as shown by the large stacks in front of the stores, are prepared to meet a big demand. Cheapest trees will be about 35 cents it is thought, this price being paid for those two and three feet high. Those a little larger will be 50 cents, but even those will be smaller than

as they were last year. The holly wreaths which have the largest demand, will sell for 20, 30 and 40 cents, while evergreen wreaths will bring about the same price.

Store windows are now filled with Christmas tree decorations, evergreen being unbreakable decorations.
